

Teaching PLACE:

Using technology and professional wisdom to uncover the interrelationships between natural and built systems.

Main Street Landing Performing Arts Center
Burlington, VT

8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. Saturday, January 24, 2015

8:30 - 9:00 Arrive/Registration
Sign Up for Small Groups

9:00 Welcome from Colleen Hickey, LCBP and CBEI

Keynote Presentation: Dr. Lesley-Ann Dupigny-Giroux, Professor of Climatology & VT State Climatologist: Nimble and Active: Using Technology to Respond to Real World Events in a Changing Climate.

10:10 -10:30 — BREAK/Form small groups

10:30-12:00 Small Group Workshop PART ONE (designed for the place-exploration/data collection/observation)

12-1 Lunch (provided)

1-2:15 Small Group Workshop PART TWO (designed for getting “presentation” ready to share findings and use of new technologies)

Please check with Colleen if you have any tech needs for your presentation.

2:30-3:15 PRESENTATIONS: Share Findings/Small Group Presentations
Each group has 10 minutes to share their new learnings!

3:15 - 3:30 CLOSING/Evaluations

3:30 - ADJOURN

Resources from today will be posted on the Watershed Matters website

Co-sponsored by:

More information: <http://watershedmatters.lcbp.org/>